More Online Educational Materials...

We have added new options to your ECLIPSE Help menu. In addition to the interactive CMS-1500 form and videos, a new online searchable documents database provides educational material (Help | Online help options | Knowledge base). We are in the process of extending & expanding all of these offerings on a continuous basis as we create & edit new content.

On-Site Training
We have begun receiving deliveries of furniture & expect that we will be able to begin scheduling offices for on-site training soon!

Data Health Exchanges

We are currently in the queue for NC Connex testing in North Carolina for Health Exchange submission. Data submission through NC Connex is required by law as of June 2020 & requires the ONC Certified version of ECLIPSE. (We already submit to health exchanges in states like NY.)

KRAMES Educational Materials

In 2011, in order to meet Meaningful Use (MU) requirements, we initiated a relationship to provide you with KRAMES online educational materials. This requirement was deprecated for our next two certifications — but it seems that over 90% of you neither used it nor were aware that GalacTek continued to include it in your subscription payment. Thus, we have not renewed our KRAMES contract. Instead, we are currently in active discussions with several companies to provide education alternatives better oriented to the needs of our multi-disciplinary practices.

DrFirst/Rcopia Prescription Handling

We have concluded a required re-certification process with DrFirst's online prescription system to meet updated federal requirements for electronic prescription dispensing.

What's NEW in v2019...

Custom Automated Statements!
Design & schedule your own patient statements using our new tools & send them via email so they can be read as HTML or with an attached PDF version of the statement! Note: this separate module requires a Client/Server version of ECLIPSE.

New Help menu tools provide online searchable help content

Patient folders created automatically via the scheduler are now assigned to the provider for whom the appointment was made

Are you using the online patient portal? It's a gateway to a variety of current & future ECLIPSE services.

250% performance improvement for all material accessed from our websites.
